

Golf Life Management System (GLMS)

June 2009. EWGA HQ has alerted us that GLMS is not currently keeping up with the latest course ratings and slopes. The inconvenience is temporary, but until further notice, members should post their scores manually.

To enter scores manually:

- Go to www.ewga.com, and under the Member section, click on Handicap Service
- Once the Handicap page opens, select Post a Score from the left side column
- Click the Login button, and sign in with your login and password for GLMS
- Now, the Post Total Score page will open
- Under the Course Name section, click on the drop down arrow, and choose Manual Entry
- Now, the page will reload and allow you to type in the course name
- Since this is a manual entry, you will need to enter the tees you played, as well as the rating and slope for the tees.

For updated course rating and slope, go to your state golf association's website Greater Cincinnati Golf Association; [www.gcga.org] to look up the course information.

-- The state golf association will have course ratings and slopes for men and women from various tees.

Please note: The course rating and slope on the course's scorecard is not always accurate and/or rated for women. To ensure your handicap is calculated fairly, I encourage you to contact your local state golf association.

Many thanks for your patience as we are working to upgrade the handicap service - doing it once and doing it economically.
